Passage A

My cousin, Peter, lives in a small town in Xinjiang. It's a beautiful place but the weather there is not nice. In the morning and evening it is very cold. People usually wear warm clothes. But at noon it is very hot just like the summer in Shanghai. Sometimes there is a storm (暴风雨). It is frightening (令人害怕的). The wind blows so hard that one can not open his eyes and very often it blows off the trees and plants.

People there are now building a 'Green Wall' to help stop the storms. Peter says, "With more and more trees around our town, it will be a nice place to live in."

True or False (A for "True", and B for "False").

1. Peter's hometown is a nice place to live in now.
2. The weather there changes very quickly.
3. At noon it is very hot just like the summer in Shanghai.

4. Sometimes there is a storm and it is very frightening.
5. 'Green Wall' means rows (排) and rows of tall trees.

Passage B

Today is Sunday, March 20. We, 17 boys and 16 girls, go to school early, but we have no classes. Our teacher takes us to the zoo. We get on a bus. It goes fast and at half past nine we get there. How beautiful the zoo is! There are a lot of trees, some hills and a big lake. The sun is shining and the flowers are coming out. There are all kinds of animals in it, elephants, monkeys, birds, fishes and many other animals. The birds are singing in the trees and fishes are swimming in the lake. We like to watch the monkeys. They are playing on the hill or have oranges, apples and bananas. There are many rules in the zoo. We mustn't do this or we mustn't do that. But we all have a good time. At one in the afternoon we leave the zoo.
